Unconsolidated subsidiaries have not been included in consolidation because they are relatively small and their assets, sales, net income, and retained earnings (in proportion to scale of equity ownership) do not have no material influence on consolidated financial statement.

[2] Scope of the use of equity method

I. Equity method is employed for investments in 3 unconsolidated subsidiaries and 2 important affiliates.

Major subsidiaries and affiliates accounted for by the equity method:
Unconsolidated subsidiary: ECS Buero-und Datentechnik GmbH
Affiliate: Toho Chemical Laboratory Co., Ltd.

Konica Holdings Australia Pty. Ltd. and Konica Minolta Healthcare System Support Co., Ltd., unconsolidated subsidiaries accounted for by the equity method, and MHI Medical Systems, Inc., a unconsolidated affiliate accounted for by the equity method have been excluded from the scope of application of the equity method with the completion of liquidation.

II. Unconsolidated subsidiaries that are not accounted for by the equity method (including Konica Minolta Software Laboratory Co., Ltd.) and affiliates that are not accounted for by the equity method (including Konica Minolta Business Support Aichi Co., Ltd.) are excluded from the scope of application of the equity method, because they have little impact on net income (loss) or retained earnings, and their significance as a whole is minor.

[3] Changes regarding consolidated subsidiaries during the fiscal year under review

Some consolidated subsidiaries have fiscal years ending on December 31, and consolidated financial statements are prepared using the financial statements of those companies as of that fiscal year-end date.
Adjustments are made to consolidated accounts to account for important transactions involving those companies that occur between the end of those companies' fiscal year-end date and the end of the consolidated fiscal year.

Adjustments were made to consolidated accounts to account for important transactions involving the Company that occurred between the end of the Company's fiscal year-end date and the end of the consolidated fiscal year. However, to disclose consolidated financial information more appropriately, the fiscal year-end date of the Company has been changed to March 31, the end of the consolidated fiscal year for the fiscal year under review and subsequent fiscal years. As a result the fiscal year under review of the Company is 15 months from January 1, 2010 to March 31, 2011.

[4] Accounting standards and methods

(1) Asset valuation

1. Securities

Bonds held to maturity:

Bonds held to maturity are recorded by the amortized cost method (straight-line method).

Other securities:

Securities with fair market value are stated using the mark-to-market method based on the market price at the balance sheet date. (Total net unrealized gains or losses after tax effect adjustments are directly recorded in shareholders' equity, and the cost of securities sold is computed based on the moving-average method.) Other securities that do not have fair market values are primarily stated at cost using the moving value average.

2. Derivatives

Derivatives are stated using the mark-to-market method.

3. Inventories

Domestic consolidated subsidiaries' inventories are, in the main, recorded at cost as determined by the periodic-average method (method of reducing book value when the contribution of inventories to profitability declines). Overseas consolidated subsidiaries' inventories are, in the main, recorded at the lower of cost or market value, with cost determined by the first-in, first-out method.

(2) Amortization method for important depreciable assets

1. Tangible fixed assets (excluding lease assets)

The depreciable assets of the Company and its domestic consolidated subsidiaries are depreciated using the declining-balance method. Overseas consolidated subsidiaries adopt the straight-line method. However, the Company and its domestic consolidated subsidiaries have used the straight-line method for their buildings (excluding annexed structures) acquired since April 1, 1998.

2. Intangible fixed assets

We have adopted the straight-line method based on an estimated in-house working life of five years for the software we use.

3. Lease Assets

Lease assets arising from finance lease transactions that do not transfer of ownership

Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method based on the assumption that the useful life equals the lease term and the residual value equals zero. Finance lease transactions not involving transfer of ownership commencing on or before March 31, 2008 are accounted for based on methods applicable to ordinary rental transactions.

(3) Standards for key allowances

1. Allowance for doubtful accounts

To prepare for possible losses on uncollectable receivables, for general receivables, an amount is provided according to the historical percentage of uncollectable. For specific receivables for which there is some concern regarding collectability, an estimated amount is recorded by investigating the possibility of collection for each individual account.

2. Allowance for bonuses

To prepare for the payment of employee bonuses, an amount corresponding to the current portion of estimated bonus payments to employees is recorded.

3. Allowance for director's bonus

To prepare for the payment of directors' bonuses, an amount corresponding to the projected value of bonus payments to directors for the fiscal year under review is recorded.

4. Allowance for product warranty

The provisioning of free after-sales service for products is recorded based on past after-sales service expenses as a percentage of net sales.

5. Allowance for loss on withdrawal from operation

To provide for losses when the Company exits a business, provisions to this reserve are made in the amount of the estimated losses.

6. Reserve for retirement benefits and pension plans

In order to provide employee retirement benefits, the Company records an amount based on projected benefit obligations and pension assets at the end of the consolidated fiscal year under review. Prior service cost is being amortized as incurred by the straight-line method over certain periods (principally 10 years) which are shorter than the average remaining years of service of the employees at the time when the service cost is generated. Actuarial gains and losses are being amortized in the fiscal year following the fiscal year in which the gains or losses are recognized, by the straight line method over periods (principally 10 years) which are shorter than the average remaining years of service of the employees at the time when they are generated.

7. Reserve for directors' retirement benefits

Consolidated subsidiaries, to provide for the payment of directors' retirement benefits, record reserve for benefits for retired directors and auditors in an actual amount equal to the need at the end of the year period under review based on the Company's regulations.

(4) Principal accounting methods for hedge transactions

1. Hedge accounting methods

The deferred hedge method is used. Special accounting methods are used for interest rate swaps.

2. Hedge methods and hedge targets

The hedge methods are forward exchange contracts, and interest rate swaps that meet certain conditions. The hedge targets are scheduled foreign currency denominated transactions, and borrowings.

3. Hedge policy

The Company and consolidated subsidiaries enter into forward foreign exchange contracts as hedging instruments only, not for trading purpose to make profits, within the limit of actual foreign transactions to reduce risk arising from future fluctuations of foreign exchange rates.

In addition, the Company and consolidated subsidiaries enter into interest rate swaps to make interest rates on bonds and borrowings stable or reduce costs fluctuations for future capital procurement, both as hedging instruments only, not for speculation purpose, within the limit of actual financial or operating transactions.

4. Methods for evaluating the effectiveness of hedges

Verification is made to ascertain a high correlation between value fluctuations of cash flows and hedging instruments.

(5) Methods and period for amortization of consolidation goodwill

Amortization of goodwill is carried out separately for each goodwill item over a rational time period of 20 years or less.

(6) Range of cash within consolidated cash flow statements

Cash (cash and cash equivalents) in the consolidated cash flow statements comprises cash on hand, deposits that can be withdrawn as needed, and short-term investments that are due for redemption in a year or less and that are easily converted into cash with little risk to a change in value.

(Change in range of cash)

Short-term investments included in cash equivalents were short-term investments that are due for redemption in three months or less. However, the actual condition of cash management was reviewed, and as a result, starting the fiscal year under review, short-term investments included in cash equivalents are short-term investments that are due for redemption in one year or less. With this change, net cash provided by (used in) operating activities and investing activities, the effect of exchange rate change on cash and cash equivalents, and net increase (decrease) in cash and cash equivalents and cash and cash equivalents at the end of period increased ¥400 million, ¥9,287 million, ¥6 million, and ¥9,693 million, respectively, compared with calculating by the previous range.

(7) Other important items regarding the preparation of consolidated financial statements

1. Consumption tax

The tax-exclusion method is used to account for consumption taxes. In addition, asset-related consumption tax that cannot be excluded is accounted for as deferred consumption taxes, etc., in the long-term prepaid expenses item and amortized over a five-year period by the straight-line method.

2. Consolidated tax payment system

The consolidated tax payment system is applied.
